PREFACE

This report deals with mapping of Zilla Panchayat Constituencies coming under the jurisdiction of Bangalore Rural District. Initially this report gives an introduction to the project viz. Natural Resources Data Management System (NRDMS) and methodology adopted for carrying out mapping using Geographical Information system (GIS). Later it gives detail account of Zilla Panchayat Constituency's taluk wise for all the four taluks coming under the district. The thematic maps and attribute data given in this report is an extract of GIS computer- based database built for the entire district.

It is hoped that this report will be useful for District Administration who will carry out election work, elected representatives, Planners and decision makers and students who undertake Socio-Economic survey/research and involved in extensive studies on regional Geography.

NATURAL RESOURCES DATA MANAGEMENT SYSTEM (NRDMS)

Introduction

The balanced regional development and effective implementation of the basic needs of our society depends on the planning process which was initially the sectoral approach confined to the central level. This accentuated the inter and intra-regional disparities in the development and hence there was necessity to decentralise the planning process to a smaller area units. During VIII five year plan a special emphasis has been rightly given to the concept of decentralised planning. While adopting the seventy third and seventy fourth constitutional amendment acts (1992), a set of specific items covering various sectors viz., land, water, agro-economy and etc., were identified for which the concerned agencies were required to prepare and implement integrated development schemes. This growing urge for decentralising the process and practice of planning led us to have fresh look at methods of data management.

The project was initiated in Karnataka in 1992 with the active support of the Government of INDIA and Karnataka and the Karnataka State Council for Science and Technology as the implementing agency.

Objectives of the Programme:

The principle objective of this programme is to provide basic framework for local level integrated planning at district and block levels through the use of modern scientific tools like, Geographic Information System, Spatial Decision Support Systems and Sectoral models in the identified areas of Landuse, Water, Energy and Infrastructure. The idea is to empower the local bodies of governance in devising ways for optimizing the use of the available natural resources to bring about an integrated development of the region, thereby improving the socio-economic condition of the local population.

Implementation Strategy:

The programme is being implemented through the creation and management of one State Centre and District GIS centers state. The prime objective of the state GIS center and the district centers are given in the following sections.

Major Activities of NRDMS State Centre:

- Provide technical support to the district NRDMS centres.
- Organise Training programmes to the District personnel, line department officials and the user community.

- Organise state level co-ordination meetings.
- Forge linkages with the state government.
- Develop and test the Software and SDSS modules developed by other R&D groups that have utility in data management or specific application at the districts.

Major Activities of District NRDMS Centres :

- Creation of District resource profiles through collection and collation of Spatial and Non-Spatial Data from different line departments.
- Forge linkages with the local bodies of governance.
- Extension of technical support to the local decision making bodies and training of users in application of scientific management principles.
- Testing and adoption of decision support systems for local level resource management and socio-economic development.
- Maintenance of the district centres.

Nature can do without humankind but humankind cannot do without nature. Hence greater responsibility lies with humankind as guardian of natural resources to maintain the ecological system. Natural resource database of an area is an essential pre-requisite for studying developmental disparities and formulating integrated planning strategies.

In the long run, the nrdms aims to have economic production & distribution patterns that correspond to social requirements & ecological needs. Securing sustainable development is the decisive challenge for the 21st century, because sustainable development has a social, economic & ecological dimensions that are to be linked in an appropriate way.

To demonstrate the efficacy of the nrdms methodology in micro level planning, emphasis is laid on studies relating to application of resource profiles in drawing up area specific development strategies. Case studies have been attempted in some selected areas such as land, water facility location etc.

An attempt has been made in this report to spatially represent the villages facing acute water problems in Bangalore Rural District and measures which are to be taken up for restoring the water structures.

ABOUT BANGALORE RURAL DISTRICT

Bangalore (Rural) District in its present form came into being in 2007, after Ramanagara district was carved out of this district. In 1986, Bangalore district was divided into Bangalore (Urban) and Bangalore (Rural) districts. Originally, Bangalore (Rural) district comprised eight Taluks namely Channapattana, Kanakapura, Magadi, Ramanagara, Devanahalli, Doddaballapura, Hosakote and Nelamangala. When Ramanagara district was formed in 2007, only four Taluks namely Devanahalli, Doddaballapura, Hosakote and Nelamangala remained with Bangalore (Rural) district. Bangalore city itself is the headquarters of the district. It is a compact district with proximity to Bangalore city.

TALUKS

Devanahalli Taluk has four Hoblis including kasaba, the other three being Vijayapura, Channarayapatna and Kundana. There are 21 Grama Panchayats and one Municipality and one Town Panchayat in the Taluk.. Devanahalli town, the headquarters of the Taluk is situated at a distance of 39 kms from Bangalore city. Its historical significance lies in the fact that it happens to be the birth place of Tipusulthan. The Taluk is known for silk-based activities like reeling and weaving and also for masonry, stone cutting etc.

Doddaballapura Taluk has five Hoblis including kasaba, the other four being Doddabelavangala, Thubagere, Sasalu and Madure. There are 29 Gram Panchayats and one city municipality in the taluk. Doddaballapura town, the headquarters of the taluk, is situated to the north-west of Bangalore on the banks of river Arkavathi. The taluk is known for manufacturing of silk cloth by powerloom, manufacturing of musical instruments like veena, thambura, pottery works, agarbathi etc

Hosakote taluk has five Hoblis including kasaba, the other four being Sulibele, Anugondanahalli, Jadigenahalli and Nandagudi. Hosakote, There are 22 Gram Panchayats and one municipality in the taluk. Hosakote, the headquarters of the taluk, is situated at a distance of 12 kms from Bangalore city. The occupation in the taluk is mainly agriculture, the other important activities being beekeeping and horticulture.

Nelamangala taluk has three Hoblies including kasaba, the other two being Thyamagondlu and Somapura. There are 22 Gram Panchayats and one town municipality in the taluk. Nelamangala town, the headquarters of the taluk, is situated at a distance of 27 kms from Bangalore city. The main activities of the taluk, in addition to agriculture, are silk cloth manufacturing by powerloom, agarbathi manufacturing and handicrafts.

LOCATION, AREA AND POPULATION

Bangalore (Rural) district lies in the Southern Maidan. It is almost surrounded by Bangalore (Urban) district. It lies between latitude 12° 15' N and longitude 77° 5' E and 78° E.

The geographic area of the district is 2259 sq kms. Doddaballapur taluka has the largest area with 778 sq kms and the next in order are Hosakote with 544 sq kms, Nelamangala with 506 sq kms and Devanahalli with 431 sq kms.

The total population of the district as per 2001 census is 8,50,968 comprising 4,37,489 males and 4,13,479 females. The population is predominantly rural with 6,58,634 persons, the urban population being 1,92,334. The density of population (per sq km) is 377 as against the state average of 275 and the sex ratio is 945 as against the state average of 964.
